Father Hesburgh is president of the University of Notre Dame. In 1934, Father Hesburgh was ordained a priest in the Order of Congregation of Holy Cross. In the same year, he began an association with the University that includes a position as chaplain, professor of religion, head of religion department, executive vice president and, in 1952, the presidency. Dr. Hesburgh is the recipient of 76 honorary degrees and numerous awards and honors including Fellow, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Meiklejohn Award, Charles Evans Hughes Award, National Conference of Christians and Jews, Reinhold Niebuhr Award, and Distinguished Service to Education Medal, The College Board. He holds membership in many boards and committees including United Negro College Fund, Council on Foreign Relations, President's Commission on the Holocause, United States Commission on Civil Rights, and International Federation of Catholic Universities. In 1975, Father Hesburgh was selected as one of the "top 4 leaders" in American higher education (see CHANGE, February 1975, p.25). The citation to this award reads, in part, as follows: "Father Theodore M. Hesburgh...represents one of America's few authentic leaders. A rational voice of conscience, Father Hesburgh's contributions range beyond education to civil rights, world food problems, and national and international affairs..." This bibliography, although titled for his contributions to scholarship on the college presidency, also includes books and essays on civil rights and other social and economic issues.
